Thank you for your interest in our rdxLOCK software.

Due to current license changes, we kindly ask you to contact our support to receive the appropriate software version.

In addition, we want to inform you, that we do not support the RansomWare functionality starting from the 4th of April 2022. As this functionality might still be available in current software-versions, installations performed on the 4th of April 2022 and later are only made on own risk.
